

The ChatGPT created an image of a full cheese pizza, with detailed cheese, sauce and crust along with a pizza peel that it rests on. You can also see what seems to be attempts at generating the pizza into cut slices, but it appears to be cut strangely and not cut at all in some places. As for what I created with p5.js, I used simple shapes and colors to create a single slice of cheese pizza. It isn't extremely detailed and only contains one slice, but I feel like someone could still tell it was cheese pizza.
